

The Internet, the perfect simple way of finding someone, and developing a relationship at your fingertips, it provides you with the pictures, information, video's, allows you to chat with or without video footage, anywhere to anyone in the world, with the potential of bringing wonderful results.

As an Owner of two Online Dating Websites www.DeviousLove.com and www.CupidsGallery.com, I have decided to write this document to assist men and women with tips, for their journey into the online dating world.

Below is a list of tips that will assist you in the online dating journey.

Honesty

When providing your information, being truthful will allow you to meet similar people, it is important not to lie about your sex, age or appearance, as starting the basis of a relationship on a lie will never allow it to last.

Your Profile

As well as connecting with a person by the information you provide, physical attraction also plays a large role, Seeing a picture of the person helps you connect, and gives you an idea about the appearance as well as the personality of the person you are dating, at the same point don't focus too much on good looks as they can sometimes be deceptive. Give the person a chance to introduce themselves, instead of forming an opinion beforehand and missing out on what could have been the perfect relationship.

Interaction

Once you have created a good profile with a picture, you are on the track to meeting someone with similar interests. A very Important if not the most important dating tip for men and women is that during the course of interaction, not to rush into anything and get personal. Depending on the image you are trying to portray don't get 'dirty', as you will look like a pervert who is on a dating website for the purpose of sex, this will mean keeping your conversations clean. Ensure do not share personal details like credit card numbers, passwords to email accounts, and other private details.

Research

So, you've met someone. Have you considered a background check? Yes, love is blind. But on the web, when you haven't met the person, and with the rise of online dating scams, it is a wise choice to conduct a background check on the person you have decided to share this special bond called love with. There are several tools online to help you with this purpose. Find out everything to your heart's content, and then decide whether you would like to exchange phone numbers and e-mail addresses.

Meeting

You've met the right person, you've done a background check, your conversations are perfect, and you've decided that it's time to meet in person. Without any intentions of bursting your bubble, even in this case, you have to be cautious, simply because several times someone may sound perfect but prove otherwise upon a personal meeting. Don't meet at a private place like his/her apartment, and if you can, have a friend around in the vicinity you are meeting. If the first couple of dates go well, you have nothing to worry about.

The thing about online dating is, most of the new dating sites on the Internet now free or paid. Think that just because you have to compete with all of the other well known name dating sites. You have to buy or purchase fake profiles, that is 100% unfair to the members who sign up for their service especially for a paid service. For example I do reviews on dating sites to see which one's are fake. If you have never heard of a dating site especially if it isn't free then if they have millions of members, they don't offer trial service or they need your credit card then it's more than likely fake profiles. On the other hand if they offer a trial service, it's 100% free or they don't have millions of users then you can believe that site is 100% authentic with its members. Remember dating sites that say they have millions chances are you have heard of it before, but if you have not but like the name and what you see but they do not have a lot of members then those are the sites that will have real profiles and the best chances for you to meet someone. The two newest online dating sites I have researched are FaithFulMeeting

Dating Cafe Lounge

Both are 100% Free they are very new so they have real profiles, but the best thing about these two new sites you keep your page position no matter how many people sign up after you. If its a million people who sign up after you and when you signed up you where 2nd, then that's where you will remain until you unregister.

the best tip for any relationship is to be honest -- if u lie or put on a front and not be yourself you are cheating yourself and the other person - if you truly dont like him tell him ---- this i know from personal experience ----- thats it he likes you for who you are so just be honest

You can get great quotes, but you have to choose the right person. Ideally for me is that gradually learn to know if there is compatibility. It actually takes a long time to know a person well.

Good luck there.

My brother married a girl from Ukraine and he says that the girls there are awesome. He worked with matchmaking agency from there and he was very pleased with their work.
