
Subject: Are women in Bangkok used to bring friend on date?
Posted by smithsmitten30 on Mon, 25 Jun 2018 08:40:37 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

When I went to Thailand last month, I met a girl in a club who swept me off her feet. She is sweet and caring. I asked her out one time but I was shocked when I saw her walking closer toward me with a friend at her back. I used to date women from USA before and they came to dates alone. However, single women in Thailand are very vigilant. I wonder if they are really like that or she just thought I'm some kind of a murderer that's why she brought a friend along. I want to ask her out on a date again but I want us to be alone this time. Is that possible? If I tell her that, will she agree? Doesn't it sound insulting for them?

Subject: Re: Are women in Bangkok used to bring friend on date?
Posted by seniordating on Wed, 03 Apr 2019 06:24:57 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Hi, bangkok is used to known for pure dating and have the most popular red light area. I dont think you should ask her out again. We dont know thier intentions.
