A lot of guys only scratch the surface when attempting to flirt with women. Rapport is just a fancy word for flirting, but with one major difference it's effective. Here are five tips for flirting like:

Tip 1 Understand flirting: Flirting is more than just complimenting a girl. If you want her to return the gesture, you have to create sexual tension. In short, when a woman feels sexual tension towards you, she's attracted, but she's unsure of how you feel. This only heightens her interest in you.

Tip 2 Be cocky, but use humor: The mixture of cockiness with humor is a great technique. The idea behind this approach is to elevate your status within her eyes, thereby making her work harder to gain your approval.

Tip 3 Create a sexually-tense conversation: Your objective when flirting with women is to showcase yourself in a sexual light. You want her to view you as a possible lover, not a friend, and to do so, you must incorporate sex into your conversation.

Tip 4 Touch her: Now that you know some elements for a good conversation, it's time to up the ante. In other words, it's time to touch her.

Tip 5 Talk adventurously: Women crave excitement. They will see that you know how to flirt with women, With that said, the more adventure you've got going on in your life, the more attracted she'll be to you.

1.Be clean and hygienic Seems simple but it's amazing how many guys don't take it seriously.
2.Have lots and lots and LOTS of confidence.
3.Start a conversation with her.
4.Body Language By far the most powerful weapon you have in your romantic arsenal.
5.Cocky-Funny. If you're dealing with a girl who is resistant to having a conversation.

1.Be clean and hygienic - definitely on top of my list! I like the guy who flirt with lots of sense of humor yet not being arrogant.
