Welcome to LiveDating board!

Well, this really depends on your local/national traditions. Where do you live?

Anyway, I won't recommend to drop any hints about that (though for some ppl this might seem to be the only obvious approach ).

Instead, try to say some words like 'You are the only man of my dreams', i.e. to send a clear signal which is going to be much more exciting to a man, rather then just to ask something like 'Do you want to be with me forever?'.
Just say that and wait for an answer.
If you got no answer then you probably should repeat this for a few more times.
Will this work for you?
