So, I work at a Casino in a retail outlet, and across the hall is a new food outlet. There is an employee there named Katherine, and she is GORGEOUS! Tall...redheaded....absolutely beautiful. I take a few glances here and there throughout my shift hahaha. Customers/guests come into my outlet a lot, so I'm kept pretty busy. I want to sneak across and find out more about aforementioned beautiful redheaded Katherine. Being that this is in the workplace (a casino no-less, where supervisors are monitoring you for what seems to be constantly), it's a kinda tough situation. How would you all go about this?

Find a minute to talk to her and ask for her FB or telephone. If she is willing to reveal her contact details with you then you have a big chance to go to next level.
