Hello, Dasu!
Why take advice only from girls I think you can take expert advice who have a lot of experience in the dating relationship. However, Every girl wants to select a boy who is confident, trustful, good looks and having a loving nature.
So, get connected to a relationship expert if you want to date a girl.

Nobody will tell you how to get a girl you want if she doesn't want it too. YOu need to find a girl who find you nice and attractive

Just be yourself. Beauty is in the eye of the beholder so it depends if the woman finds you attractive, then she'll like you. Then add confidence, honesty, and respect.

How to know if the girl likes you?
Depends on what your looking for. Women are hard to understand. If she's someone you like and your constantly together then you can ask her straight.

According to me some point if we take that and implement in our life then definitely girl impress with you....

Build your confidence
Get her laughing
Make her win you over
Create an emotional connection
Build sexual tension
 Be unattached to the outcome
7. Find your passion
8. Try new things..........
